(Introduction will be for two minutes)

Presenter – Hello and welcome Film4fans! My name is Max Houghton and Today we will be reviewing about a popular new film that has been very successful at the box office! We will also be discussing what's happening in the film world and talking about upcoming film releases that are going to take the box office by storm!

Presenter- Okay then! Let's start our first section of today's show!

Presenter – But for now, Let's introduce today's guest Would you like to introduce yourself!

Guest 1 – Hello my name is Ingo and Im happy to be here

Presenter: That's great to hear! Okay then, Let's get on with today's show!

Guest 1 - I'm looking forward to it!

(Introduction finishes and The first VT begins which will last for 10 seconds)

Presenter - Before, we get on with our first section, one of the members of our production crew (Sammy), did a voxbox to find out what people's favourite film's have been so far for 2017. Here are, some of their favourites.

(The first VT finishes after 10 seconds)

Presenter – Today's film we will be reviewing is Marvel's Logan. The film's release date for the UK was March 1st 2017 and this film has received positive reviews since its release. I

Presenter – The story of Logan takes place in the far future. The main protagonist Logan (played by Hugh Jackman) is looking after a sick and elderly professor x (played by Patrick Stewart) in the Mexican border.

He meet's an unlikely ally called Laura (played by Dafne Keen) whom is similar to Logan in many ways. Logan eventually discovers that dark forces want to capture her and use her for evil purposes. Protecting Laura becomes Logan's mission as the film progresses.

Before we start with some questions here, is a short trailer clip.
